

Webpack: Web Hosting

Geo-redundant Cloud-Clustered hosting for 100% uptime!

The very best in hosting with a 100% uptime guarantee thanks to our Quadra Cloud Hosting System with 4 layers of redundancy for every site. It's much more than that though. We provide comprehensive help and support for your website to ensure you have access to our experts around the clock. You won't be alone, we're always here to help and happy to fully manage and setup everything for you (iWeb hosting is one-click).

Our hosting clusters are the latest and highest specification Linux and Xeon based with dual 16-core processors per node, high spec RAID, dual PSU's, live auto-failover and live automatic burst. Couple this with primary connections and peering directly in Telehouse London - the very heart of the UK's internet infrastructure - ensures super-fast access to your site from all around the World. It's designed without compromise.

100% Uptime - Quadra Clustered Hosting System

We run geo-redundant cloud clusters: Essentially a group of high specification servers which run your website so that if one or more fails (or gets busy), the others take over or help out instantly. What's more, these clusters are spread over two geographically diverse datacentres 200 miles apart. We call this system Quadra: 4 layers of redundancy, with no single point of failure. Additionally, your site and databases are backed up to a third datacentre incrementally - we actually do 6 backups per day. Your site won't go down and that's a promise - none of this 99% uptime nonsense.

First Class Email

All of our hosting comes with one of our coveted Business Email package which includes customisable spam protection, virus scanning, webmail and, of course, 100% uptime thanks to a mirrored mail system that works together in perfect duo-synchrony across our datacentres.

Well connected.

We operate 3 datacentres. Our primary systems are based in the very heart of the UK's internet infrastructure, Telehouse London. This is the most interconnected datacentre in the UK and one of the most important locations in the World. Secondary systems are located in Bristol and Cornwall. As you would expect, all have the highest security, power redundancy and fire protection available as well as multiple routers and in/out data feeds to ensure 100% uptime.

Reliable and Fast.

That's how hosting should be.

MacAce think different too.

We're a Mac-focused ISP with knowledgeable, dedicated and helpful staff - and importantly, more "technical" than "sales". Our internet services are fully managed, fully supported and focused around a professional and personal service throughout. We find this approach ensures a more reliable service where there are no long call queues and a 1 hour target to email replies (in fact this is often minutes). Like Apple, we really take time to think about our network and systems - designing them from the ground up without compromise and with no single points of failure. We're sure you'll find the way we do things better for your business.

website hosting price list

We've named our hosting packages after some iconic Apple Mac's from the 80's and 90's - when Apple first previewed the modern computer we know today and ignited the Desktop Publishing revolution to the masses.

Proper Business class email is provided with each package and can be upgraded.
